Your score will correspond with the options noted on the next page.

CHOOSE YOUR RISK LEVEL

Select the investment strategy based on your total score. Your investment risk strategy is made up of your choice of seven categories of investments. The pie charts show you how these categories are combined to form an investment plan for each kind of risk strategy.

- 0-4 points GUARANTEED RETURNS (no risk)
You are close to retirement or simply cannot tolerate any risk taking. Security is of utmost concern.
- 5-9 points SAFETY STRATEGY (CONSERVATIVE)
You may be approaching retirement or simply prefer to take less risk. Security is your most important concern.
- 10-13 points BALANCED STRATEGY (MODERATE)
You want a balance between growth and security. You will accept a small amount of risk in order to have the potential for higher returns over time.
- 14-18 points MID-LIFE STRATEGY (ACCUMULATOR)
You are prepared to take some risk to maximize your returns. Safety is still an important strategy but potential growth is becoming more important.
- 19-22 points STABLE STRATEGY (STABLE GROWTH)
You want a balance between growth and security. You will accept some risk in order to have the potential for higher returns over time.
- 23-27 points GROWTH STRATEGY (GROWTH)
You plan to be invested for a very long time and are willing to accept additional risk and volatility in exchange for potentially higher returns.
- 28-30 points MAXIMUM GROWTH STRATEGY (AGGRESSIVE)
You plan to be invested for a very long time and are willing to accept additional risk and volatility in exchange for potentially higher returns.

These are the investment portfolios available under the FLEX ACCOUNT RETIREMENT POLICY. The results of this quiz should be of assistance to you when selecting your investment strategy. A graphic illustration of the above investment profiles is attached.
